

MAT 397 Calculus III A. Lutoborski Syracuse University Spring 2017
--

Instructor: Professor Adam Lutoborski, Carnegie Room 311 A, phone: (315)-443-1489, e-mail: alutobor@syr.edu.

Office Hours: Monday 11:00-1:50, Wednesday 1:00-2:00.

Classes: Section 4: Tuesday, Thursday 12:30-1:50.

Recitation Section: S. Spriggens, Friday 2:15–3:35, Carnegie Building, Room 200.

Text: “Essential Calculus” Early Transcendentals, second edition by James Stewart, Thompson Brooks/Cole.

Syllabus: Portions of chapters 10 through 13 will be covered. A detailed syllabus is provided on the departmental website.

Prerequisites: MAT 296.

Homework: Homework assignments are listed in the syllabus which is available on the departmental website.

Exams, Final Exam: There will be 3 exams (in recitation) and a cumulative 2 hour final exam given in this course.

Exam 1: Friday, September 25,

Exam 2: Friday, October 23,

Exam 3: Friday, November 20.

Final Exam: Wednesday May 8, 2 hour exam, between 8:00–2:30 pm. Course

Grades: Course grades will be determined by: 3 exams: 20% each, 15% recitation, final exam: 25%.

Grading Policy and Clerical Errors: It is your responsibility to attend lecture and recitation in order to get your written work back in a timely manner. Occasionally graders might make clerical errors (the points on an exam being incorrectly added together). It is also your responsibility to check your work for clerical errors. If you find a clerical error, please bring it to my attention right away. You must bring clerical errors to my attention within 3 weeks (21 days) of the date an assignment is returned. After this time no changes will be considered.